Library2U and Home Library Service to resume

I am delighted to confirm that Library2U and the Home Library Service will resume from Monday 30 August.

Library2U and the Home Library Service deliver books directly to the doors of library members living in the City of Ryde via a contactless service.

Both services had to be temporarily suspended earlier this month after a number of local government areas became subject to tighter restrictions. However, the City of Ryde has now implemented a new COVID-Safe Plan which will allow for both services to resume.

This means that library members will be able to place reservations on their library account for the Library2U service from Tuesday 24 August, with the first deliveries due to take place on Monday 30 August.

QR codes introduced at popular playgrounds

The City of Ryde will introduce QR code check-ins at popular playgrounds and exercise areas as an additional proactive step to assist in keeping the community safe during the current COVID-19 outbreak.

For kids and their parents (like me), our parks and playgrounds are essential to good physical and mental health. For some, visiting the local playground is the only chance at exercise they get each day.

For others, a walk and some push-ups at an outdoor gym is their way to keep fit.

By checking in when you visit one of these facilities, you will not only be keeping yourself safe, but also your loved ones and the entire community.

Council will continue to work with the community as well as the police and health authorities to ensure our public facilities are utilised safely during this COVID-19 outbreak.

Please stay safe, take care and enjoy your time outdoors.

Get vaccinated

I would like to give a big shout out to all the residents who have received their COVID-19 vaccination in recent weeks. Every vaccination administered brings us closer to helping ensure lockdowns become a thing of the past.

You can check where you can receive your COVID-19 vaccine via the Federal Health Department website (www.health.gov.au) and the NSW Health website (www.health.nsw.gov.au). If you have any concerns, please discuss with your doctor.

Sincerely,

Clr Jerome Laxale
Mayor
