Introduction

This report summarises findings from community and stakeholder engagement completed to inform the City of Ryde Social Plan and Creativity Strategy.

BACKGROUND

The City of Ryde Council area (Ryde) is home to approximately 131,922 residents (2019) and covers an area of approximately 40km<sup>2</sup> from Macquarie Park in the north, North-Ryde in the east, the Parramatta River in the south and Eastwood in the west. The traditional custodians of the Ryde area are the Wallumedegal (or Wallumattagal) people.

Cred Consulting and Micromex Research were engaged by City of Ryde Council in February 2019 to work collaboratively with Council, community and stakeholders to develop both a Social Plan and a Creativity Strategy that respond to the diverse needs and aspirations of the Ryde community.

PURPOSE

This report summarises findings from community and stakeholder engagement completed to inform the development of the City of Ryde Social Plan and Creativity Strategy (the Plan / the Strategy).

The Social Plan will determine Council's community capacity building agenda to 2024, and provide the framework on which it can monitor and evaluate community and social wellbeing and the results of its efforts overtime.

The Creativity Strategy will drive the delivery of an achievable program of initiatives that will contribute to the cultural and creative life of the City.

METHODOLOGY

Community and stakeholder engagement was delivered between 27 February and 31 March 2019. A full overview of engagement activities is shown overpage in Table 1.

Across both the Plan and the Strategy, community engagement activities included four surveys, an online mapping tool, fourteen workshops, forums and drop-in sessions, forty stakeholder interviews and internal consultation with Council staff and leadership.

Community engagement activities aimed to reach a broad cross-section of the Ryde community, including a geographical spread across the LGA and engagement with community members from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds.

Council engaged Community Migrant Resource Centre (CMRC) to work collaboratively with the consulting team to deliver targeted multicultural consultation activities, including a multicultural workshop facilitated by translators speaking various community languages.

Key themes for the Creativity Strategy

This section summarises key themes from community and stakeholder engagement to inform the City of Ryde Creativity Strategy.

The City of Ryde has an untapped creative community.

Ryde is home to a large number of creative people that contribute to the vibrancy of the area, including artists, musicians, performers, film makers, students, gallerists and designers. As the cost of living and housing in Ryde continues to rise, the community would like to support these people to continue to live and work in the area.

Many community engagement participants feel there is a need for more connections and collaboration amongst artists and creatives to allow the cultural ecosystem in Ryde to thrive. The community see a role for Council to foster and coordinate opportunities for partnerships and networking and to support creatives to scale up their initiatives by providing community grants.

Community engagement participants identified that some of the biggest challenges for arts and culture in Ryde include a limited number of spaces and places to create and showcase work, communication and promotion around existing events and programs, and a lack of funding.

The community want Council to continue to support artists through initiatives such as the Sustainable Waste Art Prize but see opportunities for initiatives to be expanded and increased. They would like to see Council engage local artists, organisations creatives to support events and festivals and be paid to do so.

Cultural diversity in the City of Ryde is a strength with a need to maintain creative cultural traditions and opportunities for crosscultural connection.

Across all community engagement activities, cultural diversity was seen as a key strength for creativity in Ryde. Community engagement participants think the diverse range of cultural traditions and creative practices, including storytelling, dance, music and food, are part of what make Ryde an interesting place to live.

Culturally diverse community are proud of and want to maintain their creative traditions and suggested opportunities for Council to support them to do so by providing spaces, supporting performances and offering community grants. Moreover, the community would like to see more opportunities for crosscultural creative exchange, for example through existing initiatives such as Lunar New Year celebrations or Harmony Day.

It is important to communicate and promote what is already happening in the area.

Community engagement participants indicated that there is room for improvement around communication and promotion of the cultural and creative events and programs that are already happening in the area. This includes opportunities to support creatives and creative organisations to promote their own activities and attract an audience, but also improving to improve promotion via Council channels, including Council's website and social media.

Creativity brings people in the City of Ryde together.

Community engagement participants recognise that cultural and creative events, festivals and programs help bring the Ryde community together through the sharing of stories, ideas and perspectives.

The community think these connections will be increasingly important as our community continues to rapidly grow and change, and we live in denser urban environments. They would like to see more opportunities for creativity to facilitate social connections, including intergenerational and crosscultural connections, and for our newly arrived and transient populations.

Spaces and places for creating and sharing allow creativity in the City of Ryde to flourish.

Ryde has a number of places and spaces that are highly valued and utilised for culture and creativity by the community, including community facilities such as the libraries, Brush Farm House, and Willandra, as well as public spaces such as Eastwood Plaza, parks and the riverfront.

Community engagement participants raised concerns that there is a limited number and variety of spaces available for the Ryde community to engage in culture and creativity, that some existing spaces are already at capacity and that others could be better utilised. In particular, people mentioned a lack of studio spaces to create work, a lack of performance space and a lack of spaces for larger groups to meet.

The community suggested a range of opportunities for new spaces, including repurposing existing buildings and spaces for creative uses, providing temporary spaces in vacant buildings and creating new purpose-built multipurpose facilities.

Creativity can help to build a stronger sense of identity and place for the City of Ryde.

Community engagement participants raised concerns that Ryde is lacking a clear identity, and think that creativity can support the development of a sense of place and belonging for local communities as well as across the LGA.

The community think this is particularly important in newly developed and high-density residential areas such as in Macquarie Park and Meadowbank. In particular, people see opportunities to build identity through creativity in public places, including through the increased provision of public art and outdoor event spaces.

In addition, the community suggested that Ryde is not seen to be a creative place or destination, and think that a focal point for creativity, such as a flagship facility or festival, could attract more people to the area to visit and raise awareness of the value of culture and creativity within the Ryde community.

Providing opportunities for the community to engage in culture and creativity in the City of Ryde.

There are opportunities to increase opportunities for the City of Ryde community to participate in culture and creativity. While 90% of telephone survey respondents had participated in some form of art and cultural activity within the past 12 months, just 41% agree that they have enough opportunities to participate in arts and cultural activities in the City of Ryde.

Community engagement participants want people in Ryde to have opportunities to participate in culture and creativity regardless of their cultural background, socioeconomic status, age or ability.

Community engagement findings show that being responsive to the unique and changing needs of the Ryde community will include the provision of free and affordable programming to supporting broad creative participation; programs for children and families to cater to the large number of families living in the area; programs available after hours and on weekend to support participation by young people and the working population; programs for seniors to promote participation and combat social isolation; programs that are relevant and accessible to culturally and linguistically diverse community members; and programs for people with disability and carers.

The City Ryde has a significant heritage story.

Community engagement participants spoke to the Ryde area's significant cultural heritage, highlighting how both Aboriginal and colonial histories are an ongoing part of Ryde's identity today. In particular, the community highlighted a need for ongoing awareness that Bennelong lived and is buried in the area. The community would like to see continued engagement with Ryde's past as we move into the future, including through interpretive signage, public art, and educational programs.

"City of Ryde libraries are hubs of sharing of ideas although my working hours don't really allow me to get to these. I appreciate the encouragement of classical music with performance every Sunday."

"The City of Ryde has a diversity of people and creative skills in the area. Through Council's creative groups forum I got to meet some of these people that I was not previously aware of."

"It can be a challenge finding venues for people who want to get together to create, paint and draw together just for fun."

"The City of Ryde needs more street art, particularly modern aboriginal art. People need to be able to feel connected to the place they live through history."

"I love the great murals up in different places."

"I am aware of creative activities being held for young children but there seems to be very little that is accessible for teens or adults."

"Ryde has a diversity of creative expression linked to cultural diversity."

"Free or cheaper classes should be encouraged. This draws people with similar interests and brings community together."

"I would love to have open music performances for musicians in public spaces such as West Ryde."

Key themes for the Social Plan

This section summarises key findings from community and stakeholder engagement to inform the City of Ryde Social Plan.

Building connections to make the City of Ryde a stronger community and place.

While the City of Ryde community is highly engaged with a higher rate of volunteering compared to Greater Sydney (19% vs 17%), community engagement findings suggest there are opportunities to build a stronger sense of community and increase social connectivity.

Services and community identified social isolation as a key challenge for the Ryde community, particularly for the aging community, including those with limited English proficiency, for newly arrived international students and workers, and for people with disability and carers. Community engagement participants identified that challenges to community connections in Ryde include a rapidly growing and changing population, including a high number of transient and newly arrived community members, increasing cultural diversity, and increasing high density living. Limited public transport connections and barriers formed by major arterial roads were also seen as impacting on community connectivity, including for the aging population and for young people.

Cultural diversity is a strength for social wellbeing in the City of Ryde but there is a need for active welcoming and crosscultural connections.

Across community engagement activities, cultural diversity was seen to be both a strength and a challenge for social wellbeing in the City of Ryde. Community engagement participants think cultural diversity is part of what makes Ryde a great place to live and would like more opportunities to celebrate this diversity.

The community highlighted a need for ongoing opportunities for crosscultural exchange and interaction and for the active welcoming of newly arrived residents to support community connectivity, including through events, festivals and programs. Additionally, the community think there are opportunities for Council to further identify and develop relationships with community leaders, including in emerging communities.

Service providers highlighted that culturally diverse communities may be less aware of the various services provided in the area, and how to access them. In addition, service providers noted there may be limited understanding and recognition of issues such as mental health and the importance of play for childhood development in some communities.

Service providers identified an increasing number of newly arrived and refugees from war-torn countries living in the City of Ryde and a need to support those experiencing post-traumatic stress.

“The City of Ryde is welcoming for visitors and people moving into the area. There is a feeling of inclusiveness.”

“I want the City of Ryde to be a place where residents, visitors, workers want to be because it offers a safe environment with opportunities to live well, exercise, get around, get educated, build friendships, and start and grow a family.”

While the City of Ryde is a relatively safe place to live, there are opportunities to enhance community safety.

On the whole people think Ryde is a safe place. However, with 92% of telephone survey respondents indicating they feel safe during the day and 78% indicating they feel safe at night, there are opportunities to further explore (perceptions of) safety within the community.

Service providers highlighted that domestic violence is an ongoing yet not often visible issue within the area, and can be a cause of homelessness for older women. Some indicated that there is a need for domestic violence services and education that are relevant and specific to culturally and linguistically diverse communities, and identified opportunities to work with community leaders to address this issue.

The City of Ryde community wants to know what's going on in the area and be engaged.

Community engagement participants across all consultation activities indicated that there is often limited awareness within the community of what is going on in the area, both in terms of available services as well as social activities and programs. With many new residents moving in to the Ryde area and residents speaking a language other than English at home, it is an ongoing challenge to communicate via appropriate channels and languages.

The community noted that there is room to improve Council's website and social media channels to increase access to information about services and programs.

While community engagement participants appreciated the opportunity to provide input to the Social Plan and the Creativity Strategy, some noted that there are opportunities to improve community engagement approaches including with culturally and linguistically diverse communities and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities.

Maintaining a sense of community and place as our population grows and we live in higher density.

There was a strong awareness amongst community engagement participants that the City of Ryde population is growing rapidly and that lifestyles are changing, including an increasing number of people living in high density urban environments. Many highlighted that there is a need for more social infrastructure to support this population growth, while others expressed concerns that existing facilities are already at capacity.

Community engagement participants said that there is already a limited sense of identity and community within the Ryde LGA, and some think that establishing a sense of place and belonging will be an even greater challenge in new and high density communities. The community emphasized that development should provide opportunities for community connections, including quality social infrastructure and open space.

The cost of living and housing across Sydney and in the City of Ryde is rising and impacting on social wellbeing.

Community and service providers highlighted that cost of living and housing across Sydney and in the City of Ryde is increasing and is impacting on the wellbeing of local communities, families and individuals and exacerbating existing social issues.

Service providers indicated that homelessness is an ongoing and somewhat hidden issue within the City of Ryde, impacting particularly on young people who may be couch surfing and women aged over 55 years, and highlighted the need for a homeless shelter within the LGA.

Services and programs in the City of Ryde are facing increasing demand and decreasing funding.

Service providers are facing both increasing demand and complexity as the population in the City of Ryde grows and changes as well as decreasing funding from the State government. This means service providers are having to do more with less.

Some population changes and emerging issues impacting on service delivery include social isolation; increasing cultural diversity, increasing numbers of newly arrived and humanitarian refugees from war-torn countries experiencing post-traumatic stress; increasing cases and complexity of mental health clients.

Service providers identified a number of trends in service delivery including a shift towards co-located service hubs that provide wrap-around services and a shift towards the provision of outreach programs.

Service providers would like to see more opportunities for collaboration and partnership between services to address needs, and think Council could play a role in facilitating this. In addition, some service providers expressed a desire for more transparency and communication around Council's allocation of resources, including funding and subsidised rent, to services.

Community spaces and places are critical for social wellbeing and community connection.

Community engagement participants highly value the existing spaces within the Ryde LGA that facilitate community connections, including libraries and community centres and halls. However, they indicated that think there is a need for existing community spaces to be better utilised and for new community spaces to respond to population growth and enable community connections into the future.

The community thinks that development offers opportunities to deliver new social infrastructure, and would like to see public spaces and parks continue to facilitate community connections. In particular, service providers indicated a need for spaces for young people to gather. Some highlighted a need for any new facilities to be located in convenient locations, colocated with green space, and be designed in collaboration with community and services.

Providing opportunities for all cultures, ages and abilities.

Community engagement participants want the City of Ryde to be a great place to live for people regardless of their cultural background, socioeconomic status, age or ability. This means ensuring that there are available and accessible services and programs that respond to the diverse needs of the community.

81% of telephone survey respondents indicated they have not seen or experienced any discriminatory attitudes based on race, religion, gender or age in the last 12 months. However, females and those located in Eastwood were significantly more likely to state they have seen or experienced these behaviours.

Community and stakeholder workshops

1.1 Key findings across all workshops

This section provides an overview of community and stakeholder workshops held in February and March 2019 to inform the development of the Social Plan and the Creativity Strategy.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOPS

Fourteen community and stakeholder workshops, forums and drop-in sessions were held between 25 February and 28 March 2019 to inform the development of the Ryde Social Plan and the Creativity Strategy. While some workshops focused on just one project, the majority explored both projects.

In total, 364 people attended across all workshops. Table 2 overpage provides an overview of attendance at each workshop.

The purpose of the workshops was to get community and stakeholder input on key priorities, needs and opportunities for social wellbeing and culture and creativity in the City of Ryde. In addition, the workshops provided an opportunity for community members, local stakeholders and Council to come together, connect and share in a future vision for social wellbeing and creativity in the City of Ryde.

WORKSHOP FORMAT

The workshop format aimed to be creative, active and stimulating for participants. Following an individual postcard exercise upon arrival and a short introductory presentation, the workshop was focused around three 15-minute activities.

Activity 1: Defining the concepts

Part of the community engagement process included exploring what culture and creativity and social wellbeing mean to the City of Ryde community. These are complex concepts that mean different things to different people. Some community engagement participants told us that it can even be difficult to translate these concepts into their language.

Upon entering the workshop, each participant received two postcards posing the following questions: “What does culture and creativity in the City of Ryde mean to you?” and “What does social wellbeing in the City of Ryde mean to you?” Participants wrote a response to the questions on the postcards, followed by a whole of group discussion.

Activity 2: Asset mapping

Using a large map of the LGA, participants placed pink post-it notes to signify the social and/or creative places and spaces they currently visit in Ryde and orange post-it notes to signify their ideas for places and spaces they would like to see in the future.

Activity 3: Strengths and challenges

Participants were asked to write down what they think some of the main strengths (pink post-it note) and challenges (blue post-it note) are for creativity and for social wellbeing in the Ryde. This was followed by a whole of group discussion.

Activity 4: Cover story headline

In groups of two or three, participants were asked to think about the outcomes they would like to see delivered through the Social Plan and the Creativity Strategy and come up with a headline, key messages and corresponding image for the cover page of the local newspaper.

KEY FINDINGS ACROSS WORKSHOPS: DEFINING CULTURE AND CREATIVITY IN THE CITY OF RYDE

Community engagement participants defined culture and creativity in the Ryde context with a focus on:

Indigenous culture and resilience. The community highlighted the strong Indigenous living history and ongoing resilience in the Ryde area.

"It is really important to identify the living culture and heritage of Ryde's Indigenous peoples who have been living in Ryde for thousands of years. Not everyone knows that Bennelong died in Ryde at Kissing Point Park, while he is the most important figure in the history of reconciliation."

Community connections. The community told us that creativity in the City of Ryde brings the community together across age, ability and background.

*"Culture and creativity in Ryde is about having fun within my local community and enjoying local talent."
"Culture and creativity is about having local activities to encourage people to participate in their area."*

Creativity is all encompassing. The community defined creativity in the City of Ryde broadly, and told us that they think creativity is part of our everyday lives.

*"I cannot imagine a world without creativity. There is no such thing as a non-creative person!"
"Creativity is in everything we do."*

Cultural diversity. The community said that creativity in the City of Ryde provides opportunities to express cultural identity and to learn about other cultures.

"For myself and our family, culture and creativity in the City of Ryde means being able to express our cultural background and our individual and shared creativity in relative freedom."

Sharing and collaboration. The community thinks that a vibrant creative ecosystem is founded on sharing and collaboration and would like more opportunities for creatives to network.

"Culture and creativity in Ryde is about collaboration with community organisations, event organisers, individuals in the region. Participation in community events."

Identity and belonging. The community thinks that creativity can help shape a common identity for the City of Ryde community to rally behind and foster a sense of belonging and place.

"Culture and Creativity in Ryde is about expressions of local identity. Not just artworks but in place making, community events, community activities."

Cultural heritage. The community wants the City of Ryde's rich cultural heritage to be preserved and accessible to the wider community.

"Culture and creativity in Ryde is about celebrating our local heritage, culture and diversity in the community."

Inclusion and wellbeing. The community wants people to have opportunities to participate in creativity regardless of their cultural background, socioeconomic status, age or ability.

*"Culture and creativity in Ryde is about engaging with all present demographics and representing them accurately with art, music and performance."
"I would like to see more workshops, music, exhibition and activities for all ages. Every human being needs to express what is inside."*

KEY FINDINGS ACROSS WORKSHOPS: DEFINING SOCIAL WELLBEING IN THE CITY OF RYDE

Community engagement participants defined social wellbeing in the Ryde context with a focus on:

Community connections and belonging. Community engagement participants told us that social connections are a foundation of social wellbeing and support a sense of place and belonging in the City of Ryde.

"A community that's connected, sense of belonging, engage & socially and culturally active."

"Providing opportunities for local residents to gather in groups to share experiences and develop a sense of community."

Cultural diversity and crosscultural connections.

Community engagement participants think that cultural diversity is a strength for social wellbeing and want the City of Ryde to be a place where everyone feels welcome and people can express and share their diverse cultural backgrounds and stories.

"It means a community with a huge cultural diversity is engaged across cultural divides and there are facilities and activities that are accessible to everyone in the community."

Services and programs that meet community needs.

Community engagement participants recognise that service providers play a crucial role in supporting social wellbeing in the City of Ryde and want to see the continuing provision of services that respond to the diverse needs of the community.

"Being in touch with community needs- especially marginalised, and building relationship with them through meeting those needs."

Inclusion and accessibility. Community engagement participants said that a strong community should provide opportunities for everyone in the community to be supported and prosper regardless of their cultural background, socioeconomic status, age or ability.

"A community that is accessible and inclusive for everyone to be connected."

"People are aware of services and facilities and are able to access them."

Spaces and places. Community engagement participants recognise that social wellbeing is facilitated by spaces and places where people can come together to interact, access services and participate in community life.

"Social wellbeing is about providing affordable space to facilitate community interaction."

Health and safety. Community engagement participants see supporting the physical and mental health of the community as a key aspect of social wellbeing. The community think that the City of Ryde is a great place to live because it provides a relatively safe environment.

"Where residents, visitors, workers want to be because it offers a safe environment that offers opportunities to live well, exercise, get around, get educated, build friendships, start and grow a family, attend theatre and cultural events."

KEY FINDINGS ACROSS WORKSHOPS: MAPPING SOCIAL AND CREATIVE PLACES IN THE CITY OF RYDE

During the mapping activity, participants placed pink post-it notes on a large map of the LGA to signify the social and/or creative places and spaces they currently visit in the City of Ryde and orange post-it notes to signify their ideas for places and spaces they would like to see in the future.

Across all workshops, we received:

- 540 pink post-it notes, signifying social and/or creative places community engagement participants already visit
- 568 orange post-it notes, signifying the places or improvements community engagement participants would like to see in the area

Mapping existing spaces and places

The community's comments inform an understanding of the breadth of the community facilities, public spaces, parks, shopping centres and private spaces that the community currently visits and values, and how these places and spaces are used and facilitate creativity and social wellbeing within the LGA. The concentration of comments in certain suburbs also suggest that some areas may be focal points for social and creative connections.

The largest number of comments about existing places that the community uses were received in the following suburbs:

- Ryde suburb (89 comments)
- Eastwood (89 comments)
- North Ryde (82 comments)
- Macquarie Park (50 comments)
- West Ryde (49 comments)
- Meadowbank (30 comments)
- Marsfield (25 comments)
- Gladesville (18 comments)
- Putney (14 comments), and
- East Ryde (10 comments).

In addition, 44 comments referred to the entire LGA.

These comments have been incorporated into the map depicted overpage. This map also includes findings from a desktop research audit of the Ryde LGA.

Mapping culture and creativity in the City of Ryde

The map below shows the places and spaces that facilitate culture and creativity within the City of Ryde. This map includes both findings from the community workshop mapping activity, as well as findings from a desktop research audit.

Ideas and improvements community engagement participants would like to see in the future

The vast majority of comments on places and ideas the community would like to see in the future made suggestions for the whole Ryde LGA (around 190 comments) and were not place or suburb specific, however the largest number of comments relating to specific suburbs were received in Eastwood (89 comments) and the suburb of Ryde (40 comments).

As shown below in Table 3 the community had a broad range of suggestions and ideas for spaces, programs and services to improve social wellbeing and culture and creativity within the City of Ryde. A more detailed overview of suggestions is available at Appendix 2.

Overall, while there were few distinct differences in mapping outcomes across the workshops, workshops focusing specifically on the Social Plan were more likely to suggest ideas for spaces and services to support community connections and vulnerable community members, whereas workshops focusing on the Creativity Strategy were more likely to suggest spaces to create and share art and creativity.

In addition, multicultural community engagement participants were more likely to comment on Eastwood and Meadowbank, suggesting these are focal points for multicultural community connections.

  - Free services
  - Extended hours for ferry services
  - Too congested
- Traffic congestion
  - Development of high-rise buildings has created serious road congestion
  - Motorists are experiencing unacceptable traffic delays, in Meadowbank, Victoria Road, Lane Cove Road and Eastwood

- Upgrades and improvements for health facilities and services, e.g. new health centre for Ryde, Epping, Marsfield and West Ryde, extra doctors and nurses
  - Facilities in Ryde Hospital are insufficient to cope with increasing population
  - Macquarie Hospital is limited with specialists – not capable of keeping up with demand
  - Affordability, e.g. consulting fees
  - Establishment of public hospital with greater range of specialties in Ryde
- Need for night-time economy and venues and extended opening hours
- Need more parking spaces, especially for festivals
- Upgrades in community centres and spaces
  - Not friendly, need public chairs
- More public amenities, e.g. toilets
- Lack of community awareness of events and facilities
  - Printed copies of local newspapers for residents of all ages – electronic device access may not suit all ages
- Need for open space and infrastructure due to more high-rise developments
- More public facilities and services, including swimming pools, multifunctional community centre, big hospitals (Eastwood)
- More language services, including Mandarin
- Need for multicultural interactive workshops and information sessions
  - Australian culture workshop, parenting workshops
  - New migrant’s information workshop
- Lack of education opportunities such as scholarships
  - Losing students – moving to other universities
- More activities for social inclusion, specifically for the Afghan community, to include cultural cuisines, events such as Afghan New Year (Nowruz)
- Community groups such as a CALD youth group or gardening groups
- Many old buildings and housing
- Population growth
- Services for seniors, e.g. lunches
- Lack of performance spaces and art galleries,
- Lack of promotion of diverse performances
- More venues and teachers for cultural activities, e.g. singing and dancing
- Tech companies are all working in silos

CHALLENGES

Participants at the creatives workshop identified a number of challenges for social wellbeing and culture and creativity in Ryde, including:

- Transport issues, including traffic and barriers caused by major arterial roads that are obstacle to developing sense of belonging and place
- Lack of community connections and high levels of social isolation, including for culturally diverse and newly arrived communities, aging population and transient residents including international students
- Lack of distinct identity for Ryde and lack of a sense of a defined centre
- Lack of cultural infrastructure
- Opportunities for more public art and street art
- Culturally diverse community, including language barriers
- Increasing population density and living in high rise communities including at Meadowbank, and lack of community infrastructure to support this
- Shopping centre centric community due to lack of community spaces
- Many "hidden" social problems including people in crisis due to divorce or domestic violence, disability, and social isolation
- Need for more integrated, passive open space to support community use and connection
- Need for more awareness and understanding around mental health and mental illness
- Need for dementia and alzheimer's training
- Lack of "iconic" developments and buildings in our area.

1.8 Advisory groups and committees forums

This section summarises key findings from two forums held with City of Ryde Council advisory groups and committees on 25 February and 4 March 2019.

Advisory groups and committee forum # 1

Time and date: 6 - 7.30pm, 25 February 2019

Location: West Ryde Library, West Ryde

Number of participants: 6

Advisory groups and committee forum # 2

Time and date: 6 - 7.30pm, 4 March 2019

Location: Council chambers, Top Ryde

Number of participants: 10

STRENGTHS AND CHALLENGES

Strengths

Advisory committee members identified a number of strengths for social wellbeing in the City of Ryde:

- Culture and creativity in Ryde is about cultural diversity, including our strong Chinese, Korean and Indian communities and our established Italian community.
- There is a wealth of local talent in the area
- Places and spaces
  - We have a range of community facilities
  - Extraordinary natural environment, open spaces and parks and the river
  - Excellent sports facilities
  - Proximity to bush walks in the National Park - beautiful places on our doorstep
- Active and engaged community
  - Active and positive faith community – lots of churches trying to work for the common good
- A range of unique local town centres with a village-like atmosphere
- Macquarie Park
  - Macquarie Park is an engine of economic development and brings many resources and funding opportunities
  - Council is committed to opportunities for night-time economy in Macquarie Park, including live music venues
  - Opportunities to work with developers around place making, arts and creativity. Case study: Brand X in St Leonards.
  - Venture Cafe is a great initiative

Challenges

- Transport and roads
  - Transport across the LGA is a challenge
  - Lack of public transport
  - Lack of active transport connections
  - Pedestrian safety in increasingly busy traffic
  - Victoria Road is a transient place with many therefore viewing Ryde as a place you pass through not a place that you go.
  - Parking is challenge, especially at Meadowbank
- Overdevelopment
  - Overcrowding in Macquarie Park and Meadowbank
  - Need to provide infrastructure for growing population
  - Need to leverage the skills and diversity of people who move here

- Meadowbank is grungy and not well maintained
- Challenge to change the narrative about high density towards living well in high density. How do we support people to live as well as they can? Opportunities to learn from other parts of the world. (Case study: The Connection at Rhodes)
- Public places and spaces become more important with people living in smaller spaces.
- Young people
  - Young people, including students at the University, leave Ryde to do things. How do we get them to stay?
  - There are many transient young people and international students living in Ryde due to the university and TAFE. How do we engage these people in the local community if they know they are going to leave?
  - Currently limited accommodation at University
- Places and spaces
  - Improving utilisation of the community infrastructure we already have
- Cultural diversity
  - Cultural diversity should be well-managed with the constant need to actively welcome, engage and include new residents
  - There is a risk of people feeling marginalised, including international students
- Lack of connections amongst creatives and artists
- Lack of cultural infrastructure
  - Lack of theatre, unstructured creative space and underutilisation of existing spaces
- Access to information about what is going on in the area
- Need for improved Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander engagement
- High cost of participation in creative activities for young people

Opportunities

- Community gardens
- English speaking classes that also provide child care service
- Community markets either at Anderson Park or in Meadowbank
- Pop up community engagement, bringing Council to where people are
- Opportunities for a “welcome basket” for new residents with information about local services

COVER PAGE HEADLINE ACTIVITY

Participants came up with the following headlines and key messages:

Discover your pride in Ryde

Experiment with our creativity - Engage the local community - Build creative networks - New creative platforms - physical and online - More budget for refurbishment - Five year Creative plans ($) - detailed focused on consistency in upkeeping platforms - holistic artistic engagement

- Lack of affordable sports facilities, such as the two gold clubs in Ryde
  - People travel outside of community to access affordable facilities

- Increase economic support for pensioners
- Park use to be more open and diverse
  - Free movies in the park should happen more often and in different places
- Desire for multipurpose library
- Access to footpaths and pathway connections, e.g. in Eden Garden
- Increase public transport
- Upgrade Denistone Station (no elevator)
- Increase lighting in areas, such as Eastwood train station underpass and Marsfield
- Employment opportunities
- Support for working visa holder's

PRIORITIES FOR THE CREATIVITY STRATEGY

Participants identified a number of issues and priorities for social wellbeing and culture and creativity in the City of Ryde:

- Cultural programs and events
  - Technology and language learning classes on weekends
  - Ryde needs a symbol to gather people together e.g. Korean flower exhibition
- Lack of performance space and theatres, such as a musical and opera hall
  - The Civic Hall has 450 seats but no sound or lighting
  - Lack of space for musical activities, e.g. Korean drum class, Korean dance class, Korean drum dance
  - Venues for Korean music, e.g. similar to Bankstown Sports Club Chinese Music

1.10 Chinese community forum

This section summarises key findings from a Chinese community forum held on 27 March to inform the development of both the Social Plan and the Creativity Strategy.

SECTION 2

SURVEYS

2.1 Creativity strategy survey findings

This section summarises key findings from the creativity survey, which was available online via Council's website between 6 and 31 March 2019.

In total 100 people participated in the Creativity Strategy survey. Please note that, as questions were not required, the number of respondents differed per question as indicated.

RESPONDENT OVERVIEW

- 61% of respondents live in the City of Ryde
- 23% of respondents regularly visit the City of Ryde
- 18% of respondents work in the City of Ryde
- 4% of respondents own/operate a business in the City of Ryde
- 5% of respondents are ratepayers but do not live in the City of Ryde.
- The vast majority of respondents were female (73%), while 27% were male.
- The majority of respondents spoke a language other than English than home (53%), with the main community languages being Mandarin (15%), Cantonese (12%) and Hindi (4%).

Respondent involvement in arts and creativity

Respondents described their involvement in arts and creativity as:

- 53% attend or consume arts and creative events and/or programs in the City of Ryde
- 41% identify as an artist or performer
- 11% identify as a professional working in creative industries or cultural sector (i.e. arts administrator, curator, gallery owner)
- 12% identify as a member of community-based arts group (i.e. Arts Society)
- 7% identify as a volunteer in creative industries or cultural sector
- 16% identify as teaching creative or cultural subjects and or activities
- 14% identify as a student studying for higher qualifications in creative or cultural subjects
- 14% identify as a patron / art collector.

IMPACTS OF ARTS AND CREATIVITY

The majority of respondents recognise the positive impacts the arts have on our daily lives and in our communities.

Compared to findings from the Australia Council National Arts Participation Survey, respondents are more likely to recognise the positive impacts across all categories. While this is not surprising as this survey was targeted at community members who are already involved in or care about the arts in Ryde, it gives insight into beliefs around the impacts of arts and creativity within the Ryde community.

STRENGTHS AND CHALLENGES FOR ARTS AND CREATIVITY IN THE CITY OF RYDE

Strengths

- Cultural diversity is a key driver of creative expression in the City of Ryde (10 comments)
  - Need to support culturally diverse communities to maintain their creative traditions
- Meadowbank TAFE (6 comments)
- Community, including community groups and opportunities to support social connection through creativity (6 comments)
- Programs and events, including the Eastwood Lunar New Year Festival and Granny Smith Festival (9 comments)
- Including Eisteddfod, Art Prize, library programs
- Spaces, including See Street Gallery, Top Ryde Library, West Ryde Library, small emerging galleries. The Art Scene store (6 comments)
- Potential including Council beginning to plan and coordinate networking (6 comments)
- Abundant local talent (3 comments)
- Public art (3 comments)
- Abundant open space including the river (3 comments)
- Opportunities for creative expression and practice (2 comments)

Other strengths for arts and creativity in Ryde include

“Ryde is welcoming for visitors and people moving into the area. A feeling of inclusiveness.”

“Diversity of creative expression linked to cultural diversity.”

“Love the great murals up in different places.”

“ The Top Ryde City Library is a hub of sharing of ideas although my working hours don't really allow me to get to these. I appreciate the encouragement of classical music with performance every Sunday.

The diversity of people and creative skills in the area. Through our first strategic meeting at Ryde Council I got to meet some of these people that I was not aware of.

Challenges

- Funding (19 comments)
- Spaces and places (22 comments)
- Communication and promotion (8 comments)
- More events and activities (7 comments)
- Public art (6 comments)
- Inclusion and access (6 comments)
- Awareness of arts in the community (6 comments)
- Activities for teens and adults after hours (4 comments)
- Lack of appreciation (3 comments)
- Connection and networking (3 comments)
- Ryde is not perceived as a creative place (2 comments)
- Cost of participation (2 comments)
- Support for artists, including through art prizes, more opportunities, art events (2 comments)

Other challenges for arts and creativity in Ryde include creating a sense of place through culture and creativity, lack of time to participate, need for long term planning, lack of visibility in the landscape, too much construction disturbing sense of place.

“It can be a challenge finding venues for people who want to get together to create, paint and draw together just for fun.”

“Generally classes are very expensive to attend. Free or cheaper classes should be encouraged. This draws people with similar interests and brings community together.”

Needs more street art, particularly modern aboriginal art. People need to be able to feel connected to the place they live through history.

Funding and providing a space for artists to exhibit, meet and share ideas.

I am aware of creative activities being held for young children but there seems to be very little that is accessible for teens or adults.

COUNCIL'S ROLE IN SUPPORTING ARTS AND CREATIVITY

What does City of Ryde Council do well to support arts and creativity?

- The Sustainable Waste Art Prize (13 comments)

IDEAS AND SUGGESTIONS FOR ARTS AND CREATIVITY IN THE CITY OF RYDE

Respondents had a range of ideas for arts and creativity in Ryde.

- Festivals and events (9 ideas)
- Spaces and places to produce and showcase arts and creativity (8 ideas)
- Public art (6 ideas)
- Indigenous art (3 ideas)
- Community markets (3 ideas)
- More arts programs for children (3 comments)
- New programs and activities including workshop for women (2 comments)
- New community groups including Orchestra group, Men's shed (2 comments)
- More art prizes (not just SWAP)

Other ideas include co-design programs and places with the community, collaborating more with Meadowbank TAFE, having more cultural programs around Chinese New Year, consulting more with Council library staff around community needs, promoting what is already going on in the area, providing more opportunities for networking with other artists.

"I think it would be inexpensive for "gallery shop fronts" to be accessible to artists and craftspeople in the City of Ryde. These could change monthly and provide an opportunity for exposure for local artists but could also be used to exhibit artworks of local schools."

"A RydeArts major annual art prize. Perhaps simultaneously with local businesses/clubs contributing funds and publicity for their own small named prizes. Could run during a particular month at different venues."

"I would love to have open music performances for musicians in public spaces such as West Ryde."

"Other Council areas have incredible murals that are visible to the public at places such as the local wharf, murals in parks or places where lots of residents congregate. There is not presence of that in the City of Ryde."

"Public art around Meadowbank Train Station."

"Acknowledgement to country should be addressed at all public events including library events."

"Ryde needs a cultural centre which brings people of different ethnic backgrounds together to enjoy one another's cultures at minimal cost. Outdoor space is integral to this."

"A sculpture walk "sculpture by the river."

"Cultural programs around Chinese New Year."

"Artist studio trails."

"I personally would like to assist in organising stand up comedy and spoken word poetry programs."

"Art programs for kids."

"Building creative spaces for workshops etc, placing them near public green spaces would be ideal a flow of family activities and integration in community life."

2.2 Service providers survey findings

This section summarises key findings from the community service providers survey, which was made available to service providers by Council between 6 and 31 March 2019.

Respondent overview

In total 19 respondents completed the service providers survey.

As shown in Table 7, respondents represented organisations delivering a range of services, with the most common service areas being:

- Children and families (37%, 7 respondents)
- Education and learning (26%, 5 respondents)
- Mental health (26%, 5 respondents)
- Multicultural (26%, 5 respondents), and
- Youth (26%, 5 respondents).

As shown in Table 8, the majority of respondents represented organisations that support over 1000 people.

As shown in Table 9 (overpage), respondents were most likely to identify the following community cohorts as the core targets of their organisation:

IDEAS AND SUGGESTIONS FOR SOCIAL WELLBEING IN THE CITY OF RYDE

"More activities and age-appropriate events and activities for children and youth age groups."

"Coordinate events and programs that include existing NGOs, government initiatives and other local activities, specifically around mental health."

"Seniors bus to events / safe areas for seniors."

"Communal space to gather/celebrate/plan/create."

"Increased funding for social support activities, particularly for hard to reach groups such as those from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds, as well as support from Council to promote such activities would be of huge benefit to community organisations & in turn the Ryde."

"I feel that the chairs of the various Interagency meetings could meet maybe once per quarter to discuss trends - I have noticed the same things being discussed (i.e. elder abuse) at several of the groups and perhaps there could be a way to all work together on those bigger issues to pool resources and have a greater impact."

"Create more opportunities for communities to interact around shared interests."

2.3 Online community map

This section summarises key findings from the Social Pinpoint online mapping tool.

The Social Pinpoint interactive mapping tool was available at Council's website between 27 February and 31 March 2019.

The purpose of the interactive map was to get community feedback in identifying special cultural, creative and social places in the City of Ryde.

In total, 31 comments were pinned on the interactive map.

Participants were asked to pin comments on a map of the City of Ryde related to the following categories:

- Social space (6 comments)
- Arts & creative space (6 comments)
- Special space/place in Ryde (4 comments)
- This area could be improved (15 comments).

Table 18 (overpage) provides an overview of comments by category and location.

Key findings

- While comments were distributed across Ryde, the majority of comments were pinned on the southern side of the LGA with concentrations in Eastwood Town Centre and West Ryde Town Centre.
- A number of comments identified a number of existing buildings that could be repurposed for creative or community uses, and need for new facilities for creative uses. Comments highlighted a need for:
  - Men's and women's sheds and Maker spaces to enable community creative participation and production.
  - Music rehearsal spaces
- A number of comments highlighted a number of public places that are currently used for social and creative uses, and identified opportunities to further activate public places, streets and laneways through creative and community uses.
- A number of comments highlighted a need for well-maintained and clean public places.
- A number of comments highlighted a need for more parking, including in Eastwood Town Centre
- A number of comments highlighted a need to retain existing community assets and facilities in light of growing population.

Table 18 - Interactive map - Identifying special cultural, creative and social places in the City of Ryde.

CATEGORY	PLACE	COMMENT
Arts & Creative Space	Ryde Youth Theatre, Ryde	-
Arts & Creative Space	Brush Farm House, Eastwood	A heritage building with potential gallery space and host of symphony in the park.
Arts & Creative Space	Anzac Park, West Ryde	Some sort of public creative space could be created here. Movement space, public arts displays etc.
Arts & Creative Space	Market Street, West Ryde	Some arts or creative activities could be planned to occur to convert the uninteresting laneway into an interacting space.
Arts & Creative Space	Gladesville RSL Club	Add more art creating space, why is it not a Shed for fixing stuff?
Arts & Creative Space	Scout hall at Westminster Park	Could be used as a studio and creative art space.
Social Space	Eastwood Plaza	There used to be dancing and Tai chi and seemed to be gone. Would like to see that happen again.
Social Space	Hall located on corner of Pearson Lane and Wharf Road, Gladesville	Large hall space which is not used as often as it should be. Could be turned into a venue for various cultural, social and creative events
Social Space	West Ryde Marketplace Plaza	There are already groups of residents using the forecourt for dancing or group exercise which is great!
Social Space	Former Denistone East Bowling Club, Denistone East	It has been vacant for 6 years, and it could be a social space or mixed use where people can meet up. We know surveys have been conducted before and we think it is about time to start working on it.
Special Space/Place in Ryde	Eastwood train station	More parking near the station plasr
Special Space/Place in Ryde	Eastwood Town Centre	Rebuild the parking add more levels
Special Space/Place in Ryde	Meadowbank	New Skate Park opening in 2019
Special Space/Place in Ryde	Foreshore, Putney	Great foreshore and lovely Riverwalk. Perfect for pushing the pram and stopping at various parks for kids to play
This area could be improved	Hillview Lane, Eastwood	The streets needs to be cleaned as there are lots of rubbish and vegetables lying around.
This area could be improved	Kids Cottage Early Learning & Child Centre, Gladesville	A long driveway acts as access from child care center. Parents drive very quickly into and out of the driveway from Oxford street. Children attending Our Lady Queen of Peace primary school and pedestrians walking along footpath could be hit by a vehicle. Dangerous. Access potentially could be moved to Victoria Road. This would stop the build up of large family vehicles trying to drive into and out of the driveway.
This area could be improved	Ryde Community Sports Centre, ELS Hall Park	This place need to expand it's interest beyond ball sports to creative spaces and worksheds.

Table 18 - Interactive map - Identifying special cultural, creative and social places in the City of Ryde.

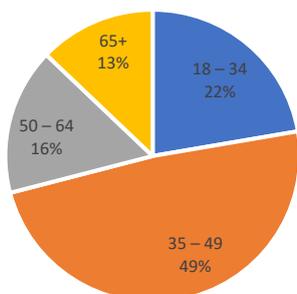

CATEGORY	PLACE	COMMENT
This area could be improved	Parking lot next to West Ryde Community Hall	Not sure the future of this site, but it is perceived un-inviting. Some creative use of this land should be considered.
This area could be improved	West Ryde Town Centre	Ugly and under utilised storage area by Sydney Train in the heart of West Ryde Town Centre.
This area could be improved	Top Ryde suburb	All the activities are put on by religions pushing for business and help the elderly or kids not the middle aged. All the free facilities have been leased off to commercial enterprises or sold to make way for over the top high rise housing. The TAFE college has facilities but it too is being turned into schools and the schools sold for more residential. Top Ryde has no art creating space or place to go practice your noisy instrument.
This area could be improved	Ryde Bulls Basketball Stadium	This space was granted to the community of Ryde, it was a Community Social Hall, it was taken over by a trampolining group and a martial arts group who paid NO RENT. Now it's been leased to this for profit commercial enterprise. Another facility lost.
This area could be improved	Greenfield Park Shopping Village, Eastwood	Cleaning up the rubbish, the lighting is a bit dim. Escalators not working, dangerous. The building looks run down and needs renovated.
This area could be improved	Ryde Park Bowling Club site, Ryde	Turn this into a Women's and Men's Shed area so we can learn and create in a free environment. Ditch the bowling greens and bring on the tinkering, decorative local art workers.
This area could be improved	Open space located next to Marsden High School, Marsden	Another place earmarked for over developed for profit residential monstrosities. Turn this into a creative art, women's/ Men's shed out of school learning and creative space. Stop selling off our areas assets.
This area could be improved	School adjacent to Smalls Park, North Ryde	This is a new school, surround it with spaces for all ages to create in, there's nothing here for art creating only sport fields that are being ripped up.
This area could be improved	Walkley Pathway, West Ryde	This alley way connecting west parade to the shopping centre needs to be developed either into dining/cafe or retail. Has been vacant for years
This area could be improved	Meadowbank Public School	They want to do away with the school, when the area has an accommodation problem for school facilities. Turn this into a creative space not another unnecessary for profit high rise residential development. This area is burdened enough with the building developers. There's no profit for residents who have been here for years and the schools are necessary for the people these builders have built for.
This area could be improved	Christie Park, Macquarie Park	Another place creative art workspaces could be added. Not all of us play a ball sport, were can we go to paint?
This area could be improved	Meadowbank park, Meadowbank	Expand this to include a few art work sheds where people can get practical skills and learn to paint artistically for home decorating.

2.4 Community online survey

This section summarises key findings from 20 stakeholder telephone interviews conducted in March 2019 to inform the development of the Creativity Strategy.

20 telephone interviews were held with stakeholders to inform the development of the Creativity Strategy in March and April 2019. Stakeholders were identified by Council and included a cross-section of creative practitioners, community groups, organisations that live and/or work in Ryde, as well as peak bodies.

Stakeholders represented the following organisations:

- 2RRR
- Artisans Ryde Incorporated
- Bennelong Reconciliation Group
- Brenda Colahan Fine Art
- Clipped TV Festival
- Create NSW
- Dance Generation
- Historical Society
- Into Art
- Macquarie University - contact after 18 March
- Meadowbank TAFE
- Music NSW - email first to arrange time
- NAVA
- Rhapsody Studios / Sydney Ballet Conservatory
- Ryde City Concert Band
- Ryde Eastwood Leagues Club
- Ryde Eisteddford
- Ryde Hunters Hill Symphony Orchestra
- Ryde Youth Theatre, and
- South Asian Film and Literature Festival.

Appendix 3 provides a full overview of stakeholders contacted.

Stakeholders were also able to provide input to the Creativity Strategy at the creative groups forum (see Section 2 of this report) and via a survey which was available via Council's website (see Section 4 of this report).

KEY FINDINGS

Key trends influencing culture and creativity

Stakeholders identified a number of trends influencing culture and creativity in Ryde, including:

- Increasing cultural diversity (3 comments)
  - A proliferation of events and festivals aimed at culturally diverse communities
- Increasing high-density living (2 comments)
  - Changing urban environment has led to increasing interest in area's heritage and history and desire to preserve the past
  - Increasing population has added to vibrancy and activation of places (e.g. Gladesville Charles Street)
- A younger age profile
- Increasingly higher income population has money to spend on creative activities
- Increasing cost of housing and living means it may be a challenge for creatives to live in the area.
- Increasing appetite and appreciation of culture and creativity, a burgeoning creative ecosystem.
- Increasing traffic and congestion means people would prefer to stay local to participate in culture and creativity
- Across Sydney, increasing willingness from artists and creatives to live further away from the CBD in places like Parramatta and Liverpool - opportunity for Ryde to capitalise on this increasing segmentation.
- Global trend for the creation of "satellite" arts centre in suburban areas with opportunities for Ryde.

Ideas and opportunities for culture and creativity

- Cultural facilities (6 comments)
  - Multipurpose arts and performance centre to provide focal point for creativity in Ryde and attract visitors (2 comments)
  - Need for an arts centre focused on children
  - Create a technology Centre at CSIRO site
  - Need for facilities to be located in proximity to transport and with foot fall. Brush Farm House is isolated
  - A good creative facility would change the perception that Ryde is not a "cool" place
- Opportunities to use vacant spaces for creative uses (e.g. like Renew Newcastle) (3 comments)
  - Church Road in Top Ryde
  - Constitution Road in Meadowbank

- Improved communication of existing Council-run cultural and creative activities
- Opportunities for Council to support local creatives and business in promoting their initiatives.
- Opportunities for artist studios in the area to attract more creatives
- Opportunities for more affordable afterschool creative activities and workshops for young people and children
- Events and festivals
  - Pop-up music and food events to provide activity at night in suburbs
  - Opportunities for more festivals showcasing the cultural diversity in the area
  - Opportunities for more cross-cultural activities
- Creative activities, facilities and festivals along Church Street in Top Ryde (near the shopping centre)
- Recognise Aboriginal heritage and living culture
  - Aboriginal museum and centre at Kissing Point Park to recognise living history and heritage
  - Opportunities for Indigenous signage and plaques throughout the area, like along Parramatta River Walkway.
- Work with developers to deliver creative outcomes and spaces, which will in turn benefit the value of their properties
- Heritage interpretation and activities at site of colonial breweries on the Parramatta River, and opportunities to build brand for Ryde
- Support live music in the area
- Big digital screen to support community film events
- Opportunities to further activate parks and open spaces through creativity
- Opportunity for a small gallery in Meadowbank to support a range of creative activities and support growing population (e.g. book readings, musical performances)
- Opportunities to collaborate more with education institutions including Meadowbank TAFE and Macquarie University
  - Meadowbank TAFE would be interested in collaborating with Council around Chinese New Year celebrations
  - Meadowbank TAFE students would be interested in exhibiting work or performing in public spaces
- Opportunities for further activation of Meadowbank Station through creativity (e.g. public art murals, installations)
- Opportunities for more public art in the parks, streets and along the foreshore

- Opportunities to be more accessible and inclusive for people of all ages and abilities, including providing opportunities at and in proximity to hospitals and rehabilitation centres
- Opportunities for Council to coordinate and facilitate networking opportunities for creatives and creative organisations and businesses active in the area

Priorities for the Creativity Strategy

Stakeholders identified the following priorities for the Creativity Strategy:

- Delivering more events to cater to culturally diverse communities
- Providing a performance space
- Providing a multipurpose facility
- Offering more community grants
- Cultural facilities and creating a technology centre at the CSIRO site
- Either doing one big thing well (rather than spreading resources around) or doing multiple things in a smaller area to change perception of Ryde
- Providing opportunities for the community to get involved in arts and culture
- Providing opportunities for more street activity (e.g. festivals, markets)
- Promoting what's already going on in the area
- Ensuring cultural programming reflects the diversity of cultures in the area and is relevant to their interests.
- Put in place conditions for grants and funding around appropriate payment for artists, gender and first nations representation

Best practice examples

- Cultural infrastructure
  - Willoughby Performance Space
  - Castle Centre in Castle Hill
  - The Connection at Rhodes
  - Wallarobba at Hornsby
  - Renew Newcastle model for pop ups in vacant spaces
  - Botany Bay Cowra Coop competition
  - Digital screen at ACMI in Melbourne, Auckland Live digital stage
- Libraries with creative uses
  - White Horse Library
  - St Kilda Library
  - Docklands City Library
  - Victoria State Library
  - Kings Cross Library

3.2 Stakeholder interview findings (social)

This section summarises key findings from 20 stakeholder telephone interviews conducted in March 2019 to inform the development of the Social Plan.

20 telephone interviews were held with stakeholders to inform the development of the Social Plan in March 2019. Stakeholders were identified by Council and included a cross-section of service providers and funding bodies that service the LGA.

Stakeholders represented the following organisations:

- Christ Church Gladesville
- Christian Community Aid
- Community Migrant Resource Centre
- FACS
- Link Housing
- Mahbobabs Promise
- Melrose Park Football Club
- Mission Australia
- North Ryde Community Aid
- North Sydney Multicultural Health Service
- Police
- Police
- Reach Community Initiatives
- Relationships Australia
- Ryde District Mums
- Salvation Army
- Sydney North Primary Health Network
- The Generous and Grateful
- The Northern Centre
- Young Life Ryde

Appendix 4 provides a full overview of stakeholders contacted.

Service providers were also able to provide input to the Social Plan at the service providers workshop (see Section 2 of this report) and via a service providers survey which was sent out by Council (see Section 4 of this report).

KEY FINDINGS

Key trends and issues influencing social wellbeing

Stakeholders identified a number of key trends and issues for social wellbeing in Ryde, including:

- High and increasing proportion of people with complex needs.
- Increasing high density living
  - People have less access to green space and are seeking childcare options that provide outdoor natural play space for children.
- Rising cost of living
  - Means both parents need to work and thus children are in childcare for longer hours/ days
  - Contributes to family stress
- Homelessness is an ongoing issue in the area, including many young people at risk of homelessness and couch surfing as well as women aged over 55 years.
  - Lack of homelessness shelters in Ryde means clients have to go out of area
- A number of stakeholder identified that domestic violence is an ongoing and often hidden issue within the Ryde community, and noted this as a cause of homelessness for women aged over 55 years.
- Rapidly changing demographics
  - Cultural diverse communities moving into the dense apartment housing in Macquarie park, Meadowbank, including skilled migrants, students, grandparents caring for children
  - Some stakeholders noted concern over lack of understanding within culturally diverse communities around the importance of socialising and play to early childhood development
  - Services receive more heavily traumatised refugees from Iraq and Syria, and Syrian Armenians.
  - One stakeholder noted a lot of negative stereotyping, racism and hostility toward Muslims in Australia, especially towards Muslim women
- Social isolation and mental health
  - Mental health has escalated rapidly, while mental health programs are already at capacity
  - Many migrant and CALD communities in Ryde who experience social isolation and mental health problems and don't know how to access system
  - One stakeholder noted that people from Asian cultural backgrounds may be more reluctant to seek out help and due to strong stigma around mental health issues.
  - Social isolation was seen to impact particularly on high school aged young people, international university students who may not have a support network in place in the area, communities living within increasing high density, and elderly people including those with limited English proficiency.

- Increasing trend towards environmental sustainability and waste reduction in the community.

Changes in service delivery

- A number of services indicated their organisation has expanded and changed to employ more multicultural staff.
  - Stakeholders are trying to build connections with 2nd generation through schools
- Services are aware of need to produce information in many languages. They are trying to work out how translation/ interpretation can be done cheaply.
- A shift away from drop-in towards an outreach model
- A need for staff to be culturally aware and educate parents from culturally diverse backgrounds around the importance of play and childhood development
- Services have developed their personnel and skills to meet the acute needs of clients from war torn locations. Staff are trauma informed, have backgrounds working with human services and have a high level of understanding with working with people from trauma situations
- Getting harder for community providers to find space as new development occurs. Service providers need to co-locate and operate as more of a hub model out of financial necessity and high commercial rates.
- Stakeholders identified a need for soft entry points to community services for people who don't know how to access system.

Council's role in supporting social wellbeing

Overall, Council was seen to be supportive and responsive to the needs of service providers. Stakeholders think Council can best support service providers by providing strategic direction and by building providers' capacity to expand their service delivery.

Some service providers expressed a desire for more transparency in Council's allocation of resources (e.g. funding and subsidised rent), with some perception that this process is negatively impacted by historical relations.

Service providers see a key role for Council in providing community facilities, and some would like to see a new purpose-built facility built for co-located services to boost interagency cooperation and resource sharing.

Collaboration and partnerships

Overall, stakeholders indicated that there is a strong sense of collaboration, information sharing and partnership between service providers in Ryde. However, stakeholders expressed a desire for more opportunities to do so. One stakeholder noted that reduced funding has increased a sense of competition and negatively impacted interagency sharing.

- Connected & supported, physical, places to meet, programs that help people come & participate, inclusive.
- An inclusive community, a place that is inviting to all.

EXPECTATIONS FOR THE PLAN / STRATEGY

Expectations for the Creativity Strategy

Staff identified the following expectations for the Creativity Strategy:

- To define goals for council to strive to deliver in the arts + culture space for the next 5 years.
- To produce an evidence base for monitoring.
- To inform developer contribution negotiations.
- Opportunities to work with groups to assist them to apply for community grants.
- Work with groups to provide suitable spaces for creative activities.
- Identification of the existing creative industries across the LGA.
- Libraries well placed in communities near shops and transport. Co-located services for community meeting spaces with libraries. Exhibition space and new ways to engage the community.
- Develop resources to support creative practitioner venues for performance, rehearsal, exhibition, skill up creatives to be economically stable and viable linked to professional and creative development pathways.
- Inputs to the Local Strategic Planning Statement which is required by NSW legislation.
- A common understanding of how the 2 departments can achieve a common goal of creating creative environments. Consultation will achieve a results focus for events.
- New and inviting spaces to work with. Opportunities for creative groups to facilitate their own events.

In addition, staff were asked to rate access to creativity in the City of Ryde, with all staff indicating that they think it is currently poor or very poor. Staff identified factors including lack of exhibition and performance space with many leaving the area, limited professional activity, limited coordination and strategic partnerships, lack of cultural and creative events, few evening venues and markets.

Expectations for the Social Plan

Staff identified the following expectations for the Social Plan:

- To define goals + strategies for Council to deliver based on the actual needs of the community
- To produce an evidence base for monitoring
- To inform future iterations of the Community Strategic Plan
- To build community capacity and community-led solutions
- To build understanding of community needs, desires, issues
- Ensure services are meeting community need to maximise outcomes for the community
- To build an understanding in the community of what Council already delivers
- Funding to support the necessary changes to our current events (accessibility).
- To guide how we can improve current practices.
- Use of open space for increased and appropriate uses
- Opportunities for the Social Plan and Creativity Strategy to align to work towards shared goals
- To deliver new, improved and expanded libraries, and
- Employment opportunities.

In addition, staff were asked to rate social wellbeing in the City of Ryde, with all staff indicating they think it is currently good or very good. Staff identified factors including well-connected services, high community satisfaction, diverse and relatively advantaged community, engaged community groups and programs, and events and services delivered by Council.

STRENGTHS AND CHALLENGES

Strengths

Staff identified a number of strengths for social wellbeing and creativity in the City of Ryde:

- Many programs
- Well-connected community services
- Active, engaged, resilient and self-sustaining communities and community groups
- Well-attended events
- Strong employment lands, with opportunities to live and work locally
- Fabulous libraries
- Great educational institutions (TAFE, Uni, schools)
- Political support for these projects currently
- Various civic spaces and places with opportunities including Eastwood Oval, North Ryde Commons, Wilga Park, Ryde Park, Kissing Point Park, the foreshore and the skate park at Meadowbank Park.
- Proximity to Parramatta including opportunities for collaboration
- Improving cycling infrastructure, and
- Opportunities to collaborate with Macquarie Park Innovation district.

Challenges

Staff identified a number of challenges for social wellbeing and creativity in the City of Ryde:

- Parks and open space
  - Need to build understanding around different uses of passive parks vs sports grounds
  - Need to distribute events across open spaces and parks
  - Open space deficiency and sports grounds are at capacity
- Lack of community spaces
  - Lack of big spaces (conference size) for consultation events
  - Lack of meeting spaces in Eastwood
  - Lack of venues close to public transport
- Limited public transport connections across the LGA which is a barrier to accessing services
- Regulations and red tape
  - Too much red tape around events which require Development Applications is a challenge to attracting and empowering community and private enterprise to come here to deliver events

- Outdoor dining and leisure on streets is restricted by regulations
- Public liability for small emerging groups is a challenge
- Urban plazas are quite small
  - Top Ryde Plaza is used frequently for events but food and loud music impact on residents
- Lack of creative spaces, including Council-run artist studios, performance and exhibition spaces
  - Opportunities for temporary pop-up activations, including in empty shopfronts and on pre-development sites
  - Case studies include Christchurch temporary structures (pallet crate park), London Box Parks and Skip Gardens and Brisbane Shipping Container activation
  - Opportunities for event-ready outdoor spaces
  - Need for flexible-use, multipurpose creative infrastructure and opportunities to fit out existing facilities
- Limited professional arts activity
- Opportunities for art schemes in light of development (e.g. CoS Hoarding program)
- Divided community perspectives on many issues – “yin / yang” (e.g. same-sex marriage postal vote)
- Groups have great ideas and expect Council to deliver / run events
  - Assist groups to run their own events
  - Manage expectations
- Night time economy at Mac Park
  - Needs business community to buy into idea of NTE precinct here
- Capacity building at community level as well as higher level
- Council provides support in kind (venue hire etc)
  - Need to review process, often due to historical relationship, need to prioritise
- Opportunities to grow funding and grants transparency and access to apply
  - Sport event seniors social wellbeing
  - Lacking arts grant.

4.2 Councillor briefing

This section summarises key findings from Councillor briefing held on 21 February 2019 to inform the development of both the Social Plan and the Creativity Strategy.

Councillor briefing

Time and date: 7 - 7.45pm, 12 March 2019

Location: Council Chambers, Top Ryde

Number of participants: 15

STRENGTHS

Strengths for social wellbeing

Civic participation

- Many people are involved and volunteer in a sporting club. These are important places for intergenerational and family connections
- There are opportunities to further bolster volunteering
- Cultural diversity
  - In Eastwood, many people can't speak fluent English but can communicate through international languages like music and food
  - Multiculturalism is a massive strength for Ryde. Eastwood itself is a destination within the LGA due to culturally diverse food, shopping and activity
- Libraries are a great strength, and
- Bushland, parks and natural features are a great social benefit.

Strengths for culture and creativity

- Cultural diversity and cross-cultural fusion and expression
  - Local culturally diverse communities are very proud of their cultural and creative traditions (e.g. music, dance)
- Abundant local talent – Ryde is full of art and artists
- Council runs many events that create culture (e.g. Granny Smith Festival)
- We have a long history, both Indigenous and Colonial as the third settlement in Australia
- Brush Farm House is a creative strength, and
- The river provides opportunities for culture and creativity.

CHALLENGES

Challenges for social wellbeing

- Social isolation and loneliness
  - Particularly an issue for seniors and those living in high density. We are already addressing this issue through libraries and events however need to reach a wider audience

- Overseas born residents are bringing their parents over to care for grandchildren. These older people are at particular risk of social isolation due to language barriers and lack of support networks
- Domestic violence
  - Domestic violence is an issue, particularly within culturally and linguistically diverse communities. Council can play a role in working with services to deliver services that are culturally appropriate and specific (e.g. growing Indian community)
  - There are opportunities to work with local culturally diverse communities and reach out to community leaders to address this
- Cultural diversity
  - While cultural diversity is a strength there is also a risk of people from different cultural backgrounds not interacting. We need to find opportunities for cross-cultural connections
  - Some aren't aware of the services we provide and don't know what is going on in the area
  - Lack of understanding about mental health and illness
- Young people
  - We are in need of a central youth hub. Our Space would have been used more if it had been more central and accessible
- Overdevelopment and increasing density
  - Lack of infrastructure to support increased density
  - Challenge to establish community connections and sense of place in high and new density
- Transport connections
  - Lack of public transport connections contribute to isolation, with older people and teenagers being particularly impacted
- Community centres and libraries are already at capacity, however population is increasing rapidly
- Lacking sense of place in Ryde
- Challenge to communicate with residents in appropriate ways through appropriate channels, and
- Reduced funding for services from State government.

Challenges for creativity

- Creativity is not visible in Ryde - although there are many creative people living in Ryde, there is no sense of it being here
- Council already runs many events and there are ideas for

- many more, however there is limited capacity to do more
- Lack of cultural infrastructure, including a theatre, an art gallery, spaces for artisan and craft activities, and spaces for culturally diverse groups to practice their cultural and creative traditions
  - Need to further connect the foreshore and river walk to enable health and wellbeing uses (e.g. running, cycling, kayaking, swimming) as well as cultural and creative uses
  - The Connection at Rhodes is a good example of a river-front community facility, and
  - Lack of recognition of the importance of culture and creativity across levels of government and in the media.

In addition, it was noted that there is a need to further clarify and contextualise what social wellbeing and creativity mean for culturally and linguistically diverse communities, as these are not easily translated (e.g. in Chinese, creativity may be translated as happiness).

OPPORTUNITIES AND PRIORITIES FOR THE SOCIAL WELLBEING PLAN

Opportunities and priorities for the Social Plan

- Cultural diversity
  - Supporting culturally and linguistically diverse communities to build confidence to integrate into the wider community
  - Ensuring services are accessible to culturally diverse communities
- Need to think and plan regionally to address challenges (e.g. community centres are at capacity)
- Opportunities to support a sense of place and community belonging through activation of public places
- Macquarie Park
  - Macquarie Park provides opportunities to work with developers to provide creative spaces, and to connect people to place
  - Case study: Brand X in St Leonards and at Central Park
  - Opportunities for night time economy and live music at Macquarie Park
  - The Venture Café in Macquarie Park is an exciting, creative initiative
- Opportunities for more community connections
- Opportunities for more collaboration between community service providers, and
- Empowering the community to do things themselves, supporting grass-roots initiatives.

Opportunities and priorities for the Creativity Strategy

- Cultural diversity
  - Provision of community and cultural infrastructure to support culturally diverse communities to hand down their cultural traditions to their children (e.g. Korean drumming bands)
- Opportunities to link up culturally diverse creative groups
  - Idea: Link up Chinese and Korean music and dance groups to celebrate and learn from each other and “Bring the best out of each culture and bring them all together to unite as Ryde residents.”
  - Bring together Korean young people and Ryde Youth Theatre, and
  - Opportunities through theatre, film festivals, multicultural eisteddfod’s, cooking classes, cultural tours, multicultural festivals and parades, and Harmony Day.

4.3 Leadership forum

This section summarises key findings from the Leadership forum held on 15 March 2019 to inform the development of both the Social Plan and the Creativity Strategy.

Leadership forum

Time and date: 10-11am, 15 March 2019

Location: Eden Gardens, Macquarie Park

Number of participants: 15

STRENGTHS

Participants at the Leadership forum identified a number of strengths for social wellbeing and culture and creativity in Ryde:

- Cultural diversity (8 comments)
  - Interaction between various groups
  - Multiculturalism is well supported
  - Opportunity to draw from a mix of cultures and demographics
- Ability to showcase what is already available through different languages
- Council events and services, e.g. library spaces, Granny Smith Festival, Lunar New Year
- Programs that support the vulnerable
- Community based groups to drive strategy
- High levels of education and employment
- Mix of interesting and inspiring places, e.g. river, park and cultural centres
  - Macquarie Park
- Strong community voice and political engagement
  - Engaged and active community
  - Willingness to participate in discussion and activities
  - Passion in the interests they have
- Access to cultural and creative facilities and events within the LGA as well as Wider Sydney

CHALLENGES

Participants at the Leadership forum identified a number of challenges for social wellbeing and culture and creativity in Ryde:

Challenges for social wellbeing:

- Community connections, including crosscultural (4 comments)
- Language barriers (3 comments)
- Tackling isolation of minorities
- Appealing to the masses
- Prioritising programs of work with limited resources (4 comments)
- Infrastructure, getting the right services in
- Rapidly changing demographic, composition of the community
- Getting around the city
- Culture of work- life balance in Metro-Sydney
- Decreased State and federal funding for social wellbeing programs
- Open space
- Less stress, less crime
- Process improvement to be a standard item on Team Meetings

Challenges for culture and creativity:

- Lack of cultural infrastructure (4 comments)
- Meeting future needs of rapidly changing communities
- Engaging all different types of cultural groups through different mediums
- To meet needs of smaller groups - awareness
- Trying to understand needs of all groups
- Providing sufficient funding to make a discernable difference
- Achieving understanding across diverse linguistic groups
- Defining the value of cultural and creative assets
- Protect against loss from development
- Understand priorities for protection
- Help negotiate diverse tastes
- Economic outcomes
- Public art can be controversial due to its subjectivity

Discussion Paper outcomes

5.1 About the discussion papers

PURPOSE

The discussion papers provided a high-level summary of community engagement findings from workshops, surveys and interviews and included a number of questions organised under five themes to further capture ideas and priorities for the Social Plan and the Creativity Strategy.

The discussion papers were distributed to community workshop participants and to students at Ryde Secondary College and Hunters Hill High School. Note that responses received at Ryde Secondary College were completed in pairs with around 100 students participating.

Discussion papers were also translated into Chinese and Korean, with Community Migrant Resource Centre (CMRC) translating responses written in mother tongue to English for analysis.

The Creativity Strategy discussion paper received 49 responses.

The Social Plan discussion paper received 28 responses.

5.1 Social Plan discussion paper outcomes

DEFINING SOCIAL WELLBEING IN THE CITY OF RYDE

Q. Do you agree [with the above definition of social wellbeing in the City of Ryde]? Would you like to add anything?

The majority of respondents agreed with the definition of social wellbeing outlined in the discussion paper, with some adding aspects of social wellbeing including:

- Sustainability, including protecting green spaces, creating green corridors and putting in place regulations to protect the planet for future generations
- Recreation, including providing opportunities and infrastructure for various leisure activities such as cycling and dog walking.
- Clean spaces and places to promote a positive view of the environment
- Addressing racism, discrimination, bullying and accessibility within schools
- Promoting friendship and connection between various communities within Ryde, and
- Promoting a sense of belonging.

THEME 1: LIVEABILITY

Q. What makes the City of Ryde a great place to live?

Respondents highlighted a number of aspects that make the City of Ryde a great place to live including:

- More police patrolling and stations (7)
- Security cameras (4)
- Emergency call stations (2)
- I feel very safe here (2)
- Improved wayfinding (2)
- Improved accessibility for people with disability
- Pedestrian and cycle paths that are kept away from major roads.
- Sense of safety is gendered with young women responding: "as a young female when I am walking anywhere by myself and an older male walks past I'm unsafe day, or night."
- "I mainly feel unsafe in Sydney at night in residential areas because if you were to be impacted by crime, there maybe be no one around to save you"
- Improved safety of roads due to infrequent zebra crossings and lack of traffic lights (Victoria Road, Green Ave / Buffalo Road) (3)
- "I can ensure that my feelings of safety be improved by not entering quiet areas. Carrying a weapon or tool on me at nights. Learn martial arts for self defense. Be able to runaway from a dangerous situation."
- Improve sense of safety in parks
- Educate people about vaccinations and enforce vaccinations in schools.

THEME 3: CONNECTED COMMUNITY

Q. What do you think are the three most important ways to build community connections?

5.2 Creativity Strategy discussion paper outcomes

DEFINING CULTURE AND CREATIVITY IN THE CITY OF RYDE

Q. Do you agree [with the definition of culture and creativity outlined in the discussion paper]? Would you like to add anything?

The majority of respondents agreed with the definition of culture and creativity as outlined in the discussion paper, with some adding:

- Need to address futuristic innovation such as digital information displays
- Need more physical public recognition of Aboriginal people and culture
- Need to address cultural heritage
- Need for more community connection across cultures, abilities, ages, languages, incomes etc.

THEME 1: DISTINCTIVE AND DIVERSE IDENTITIES

Q. How can we build strong identities and share our local stories through creativity?

- Festivals, events, markets and fairs that celebrate our different stories, cultures, and heritages (7)
- Present and/or highlight stories through artworks (collages, cultural designs and showing them online in a strong, eye catching way interesting format unique stories) (5)
- Promoting / advertising our local stories (3)
- Creating new cultural centres where people can experience other cultures (4)
- Creating spaces where people can meet and talk and share their stories open every day of the week (2)
- Display cultural arts in public places
- A website on which residents can share their stories
- Building more religious buildings to welcome a more diverse range of people
- Utilising local media for a space for young people to have a voice - creativity (i.e. poetry, stories, feature articles)
- Shared use of school facilities

Q. What are your ideas to connect our diverse communities through creativity?

- Multicultural festivals to attract large audiences and diverse age groups (4)
- Multicultural education in schools
- Art exhibitions in parks taking you through different community stories
- Arts prizes
- Culturally diverse street performances
- Afterschool activities such as cooking from other cultures
- Promotion and advertising
- Community markets focussing on different cultures.

THEME 2: PARTICIPATION AND OPPORTUNITIES

Q. How can we increase participation in creativity?

- Increase quantity of activities (4)
- Organising events, festivals and activities (e.g. outdoor movies) (3)
- Improve promotion of activities (3)
- Provide affordable and free opportunities for participation (3)
- Provide creative spaces and facilities where people can learn new skills and have fun (2)
- Organising art prizes and competitions (2)
- Organise clubs for different age groups around shared interests and hobbies (2)
- Target specific events at specific groups (2)
- Advertising events through local high schools and student leadership teams
- Empowering young people to be involved in decision-making in their communities
- Cultural games in schools
- Multicultural clubs in University
- Increasing opportunities for all ages, groups and cultures to participate in creative activities. Conduct a survey to assess needs for these groups.
- Provide spaces where people can exhibit their works and stories
- Encourage intergenerational connections.
- Provide a wide range of creative activities
- Provide translators for newly arrived migrants to enable them to participate
- More public art
- Provide free and healthy food options at activities
- More activities in retirement homes
- Increase promotion of Ryde Youth Council and Ryde Youth Theatre
- Ensure accessibility for people with disability
- Promote awareness of the value of creativity

THEME 3: CONNECTION AND COMMUNICATION

Q. What are your ideas to improve communication about creative and cultural activities and opportunities?

- Promotion and advertising through a range of channels (2)
- Improve Council's website and social media channels, ensure posts are aesthetically pleasing (4)
- Email newsletter (3)

- Posters and banners (2)
- Ads on TV
- Ryde daily magazine
- Ensure Youth Committee is in high schools
- Work with local media
- Letters to people's homes
- Have translators at events to help with language barriers

THEME 4: DEVELOPING OUR CREATIVE COMMUNITY

Q. What do you think are the priorities to support our creative community to live and work in the City of Ryde?

- Provide affordable venues locally to support creative practice
- Provide more spaces for performance and exhibition
- Workshops for community to work together
- Attract financial investment
- Improve transport
- More venues for creative education and learning
- Welcome them and make them feel at home
- More opportunities for busking and performance in public space
- More events for people to meet each other
- More parks with opportunities for creative participation
- More tech spaces to exchange knowledge
- Promote creativity in public domain
- More art exhibitions
- Improve advertising and promote creativity
- Rehearsal spaces
- Community grants.

THEME 5: SPACES AND PLACES

Q. In your opinion, what are the priority spaces and places needed to support a creative and cultural life in the City of Ryde?

The priority spaces and places were:

1. Outdoor event spaces
2. Studio spaces for making
3. Performance space
4. Exhibition space
5. Digital space
6. Rehearsal space
7. Cinema
8. Maker space

Respondents said about outdoor spaces:

- Outdoor events are bigger and can include more people. This means more people are involved and more connections are formed. These spaces can help people learn about culture or involve people in creative arts.
- I prioritised outdoor event spaces because being outdoors and doing sport/activities has its many benefits on the body and community.
- Outdoor event spaces are very versatile and can bring in profits
- By making space for outdoor events, it encourages the use of it and I believe there are not enough of these outdoor event spaces. There then can be more festivals with gathers around the community into one place.
- I prioritised Outdoor event spaces because I feel like that is one of the most common places artists would use and because it could be used for many different things such as dancing, signing, or showcasing.
- We prioritised outdoor event spaces because the city of Ryde frequently holds outdoor events. Hence, making space for such events would support creative and cultural life. E.g. Granny Smith Festival, Chinese and Korean Festival are some past events that were held in Eastwood.
- The society we live in are more interested in certain things than they are in others. Digital spaces and outdoor events spaces highly fit into the growing community in Ryde.
