The Minister's Young Climate Champion Award

Applications have closed, but DPIE are keen to find a few more worthy nominations. A Name, age, contact details and a short description of what they've been doing is all they need at the moment. If you have a student that meets the requirements please email bonniem@ryde.nsw.gov.au asap.

The Minister's Young Climate Champion Award recognises young innovators aged under 18 years who bring bold ideas for a safe and thriving climate future that align with any of the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Young and passionate minds who have taken outstanding actions that benefit the sustainability of their communities and help address climate change will be showcased in this award, which is a celebration of young people with drive, commitment and a passion for sustainability and the environment. Entries must be from a NSW school student (4-18 years).
