DON'T TELL THE OTHERS

A futuristic story of intrigue and survival

Ryde Youth Theatre's fifth and final production for 2016 takes place in a world where plants have taken over the earth. And to add authenticity the play is performed in one of Sydney's most beautiful nurseries.

Don't Tell the Others is a futuristic story of intrigue, survival, lies and blackmail that looks at friendships and communities and the things that tear them apart.

Developed with local young people aged 11 to 15, Don't Tell the Others was written specifically by Artistic Director Suzanne Hauser for performance at the Amphitheatre at Eden Gardens. This will be the first time Ryde Youth Theatre has performed outdoors and the cast have been inspired by the lush garden setting.

Eden Gardens, 307 Lane Cove Road, Macquarie Park
