Stormwater Drainage and Road Works

Hedgeland Close, Meadowbank

When will works be completed?

As a result, works are now expected for completion in December 2022, weather and site conditions permitting.

What are the remaining works?

Progress

- Protective works on existing underground utilities
- Installation of new underground stormwater drainage pipes to the Parramatta River

Following this, the remaining works will involve:

- Reconstruction of Hedgeland Close including provision of the new turning area
- Returning the riverside pathway and landscape to its previous form
- Associated landscape works including replacement of selected trees

A location plan of the works is provided on the back of this flyer.

How will traffic be affected?

The current pedestrian detour will remain in place, and at 146 Bowden Street the visitor's drive will remain partially closed. Key information is shown on the location plan on the back of this flyer.
