EDIBLE GARDENS

I was pleased to recently attend the Edible Gardens in Schools project celebration at Marsden High School, where I was lucky enough to meet some wonderful students and teachers passionate about our precious environment.

This project is aimed at creating edible gardens within school grounds and teaching students about composting, worm farming, reducing food waste and sustainable gardening.

At City of Ryde, we are committed to promoting sustainable living, waste reduction, biodiversity of our natural habitats and resilience in our community.

Steven from Urban Grow, David Zhu and the students from the Environmental Group at Marsden High School, Dom Barnsley from UrbanVeg and the Council's City Resilience team all helped to make this important project possible and deserve a big thanks for striving to create a more sustainable environment for our City.

COMMUNITY EXPO

As a proud migrant to this beautiful country and great City, I know how important it is to be able to navigate through the many organisations and services that are available to help our community members.

That's why our Ryde Community Expo is such a terrific event, especially for new arrivals.

At the Expo, which is being held at the North Ryde School of Arts Community Centre on Thursday 23 November from 10.30am - 12.30pm, you'll find many government department and community organisation stalls which will provide valuable information and assistance on everything from health services, to transportation, and further education.

THE BARBERSHOP

Throughout MObverber we've been running special events tackling men's issues in partnership with Meadowbank TAFE and the next event at the school's barbershop is particularly important.

In line with the start of 16 Days of Activism on Friday 25 November, men are invited to pop in for a free cut from the barbershop team, grab a feed and hear from our presenter about how to tackle those difficult conversations with friends, family members, partners or kids on healthy relationships and prevention of Domestic and Family violence.

This event takes place on Thursday 23 November from 6.00-8.30pm.
