

'TIS THE SEASON

Sydney's second largest Christmas carols event is happening in the heart of Ryde on Sunday 17 December so get your singing voices warmed up.

The annual Carols on the Common at North Ryde Commons kicks off at 5.00pm and will feature all your favourite classic carols and some of Sydney's best performers. To close out the night, the whole family will be treated to an awe-inspiring fireworks display.

There's also plenty of other fun on offer for the kids, with the giant slide, dodgem cars and dozens of other rides. Food vendors will be serving throughout the night.

Limited parking is available on-site with a donation.

TWILIGHT MARKETS

The Twilight Markets at Macquarie University return on Friday 15 December from 3.30 – 8.00pm, promising a great evening of fun for the whole family.

You can forget about cooking, with a delicious range of international food available, including crepes, paella, Korean street food, and Italian food. There's also a live DJ, a cocktail bar, artisans shopping and plenty of fun for the little ones.

It's also a great chance to pick up some Christmas gifts, with jewellery, wine, candles, funky cards, homemade jams, and lots more for sale.

WILD KINDY

There's some great family Christmas fun on offer at the Field of Mars on Monday 18 December with a guided bush walk being conducted by Wild Kindy from 1.00 – 3.00pm.

During the walk, you'll be collecting gumnuts and natural materials and using them for gumnut Christmas wreaths and other Christmas decorations and crafts.

Although this is a guided bush walk, there is rugged terrain and uneven surfaces, so the pathways are not suitable for prams or wheelchairs. Please bring sunscreen, water, a hat, and suitable shoes. Bookings are essential.
