

MAYOR'S COMMUNITY MESSAGE

Inclusion Award Winner - Buffalo Locksmiths and Security at the Northern Districts Local Business Awards Gala Evening

Saving our heritage

The City of Ryde proved it was genuine about preserving our area's heritage with Councillors unanimously resolving to save a historical house in Eastwood from demolition.

The house on Rowe Street was built in 1907 and has been classified as a site of local historical significance as evidence of the early development of the Eastwood area. It is also an example of work of the prominent local architect Charles Robert Summerhayes.

Following receipt of a development application to demolish the house last year, Council has moved quickly to preserve the house's heritage culminating in the decision by Councillors last week to recommend that our Local Environment Plan be amended to list the home as an item of local heritage significance.

As the State Government has complete power over Local Environment Plans I now call on the NSW Government to endorse our recommendation without delay.

Ryde supports Uluru Statement from the Heart

Last week was a significant moment for the City of Ryde, with Council supporting the Uluru Statement from the Heart.

The statement calls for a constitutionally enshrined 'First Nations Voice'. This would see the creation of a new representative body within the Federal Parliament to advise on matters affecting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders.

With the approximate location of the grave of one of the most significant Aboriginal figures in history - Woollarawarre Bennelong - recently identified in Putney, the City of Ryde has an obligation of honouring this man and the ancient history of this land.

By supporting the Uluru Statement from the Heart we not only support the establishment of a 'First Nations Voice' to be enshrined in the Constitution of Australia, but also a future in which the rights and aspirations of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people are appropriately reflected.

A number of great suggestions have already been put forward and I encourage anyone who has not yet done so, to take part in the consultation process.

You can submit feedback at www.ryde.nsw.gov.au/ecp. Consultation closes on Sunday 23 September 2018.
