

Have your say on protecting our local heritage and character in the City of Ryde.

Have your say on heritage reforms

Consultation has begun on reforms designed to provide stronger protections for items of heritage significance in the City of Ryde.

Under the reforms, 44 new heritage items, six heritage conservation areas and two archaeological sites will be created, providing them with protections from inappropriate development.

The reforms are a direct response to community concerns for more to be done to protect our local heritage and character. They also are designed to provide greater certainty to property owners and prospective buyers.

For more information, including on how to make a submission, visit www.ryde.nsw.gov.au/heritagereview.

SWAP awards night

All members of the community are invited to attend the opening night of the Sustainable Waste to Art Prize (SWAP) exhibition at Meadowbank's See Street Gallery on Wednesday, 18 September.

SWAP is the City of Ryde's unique competition in which budding local artists are asked to produce works with a sustainable theme that are made from repurposed waste material.

The opening night will feature the 78 finalists that make up the exhibition with this year's SWAP winners also set to be revealed.

For those who cannot make the opening night, the SWAP exhibition will run until Thursday, 3 October.

For more information and to RSVP for the opening night visit www.ryde.nsw.gov.au/swap.

Our Common Ground program

We would like to congratulate the apartment blocks that were chosen to take part in the 2019 Our Common Ground program.

The City of Ryde's Our Common Ground program brings together residents who live in apartments and provides them with the knowledge and skills to establish and maintain an edible garden in their apartment block.

Four apartment blocks were selected to take part in the program out of more than 40 applications.

For more on the program visit www.ryde.nsw.gov.au/ourcommonground.
