

Friday 8 May 2015

HUNGRY FOR ART FESTIVAL MOBILE PHONE PHOTOCOMP WINNERS

Local snappers were invited to submit mobile phone photos responding to the theme “Looking for Sound” – the relationship between visual image and sound, for a share in $1,000 prize money in the Hungry for Art Festival Mobile Phone PhotoComp.

From 50 finalists the winners were announced at last night’s Hungry for Art Festival launch at the See Street Gallery.

Category 1 – 18 years and Under

Winner: Chloe Ferres White Noise

Category 2 – Over 18 years

Winner: Nara Jordi My Reaction

Festival Director Cassandra Hard-Lawrie said: “Once again, we received a diverse array of creative responses to this year’s theme, LOOKING FOR SOUND.

“Ranging from conceptual interpretations of sound and image, to beautiful aesthetic responses, some photographers chose to respond to the them in a quirky and humorous way.

“Judge Leonard Janiszewski had a tough job picking the winners, as he was impressed by the number of works that were well considered images with an interesting take on the theme.”

The Mobile Phone PhotoComp exhibition will run from Friday 8 May – Sunday 24 May at See Street Gallery.

HUNGRY FOR ART is presented by the City of Ryde and supported by The Northern Sydney Institute part of TAFE NSW and the Sydney Gallery School, Derivan, Cie-elle and Top Ryde City shopping centre.

For more information on all these events and more check out www.ryde.nsw.gov.au/hungryforart